Greetings from Christchurch! I am currently sitting in the very nice City Central YHA and I am enjoying the evening. Although it is already almost quarter to ten o'clock, it is still bright outside but it is getting chilly. Anyway, Christchurch is a really beautiful city and I totally fell in love with the Botanical Gardens. Until I came to OZ I saw a lot of them, but this one definitely is the best I have ever seen. Really beautiful!

Tomorrow I will explore the city a little bit more before my three week trip with Let's Trek Australia starts - exiting! I am really looking forward to it, it will be a great time :)

Merry Christmas to everyone, I will keep you up2date if possible and if I am in the mood to use a PC :)

Bye,

Andi

PS: The roaming with Vodafone doesn't work, I have to sort this out somehow. So please be not worried if you can't reach me!
