Hey everyone!

Just wanted to say HI! and greetings from Kaikoura! Half of the trip is over - unfortunately :(But that also means that half of it is still to come which is great! :) My travel group (also referred to as "family" g) is awesome, we rock the house!

So that you have an idea with whom I am travelling with... here are the guys:

Susi (South-Korea), Tara (UK), me

Raymond (Netherlands), Michael (Denkmark), Fred (Belgium), Lara (UK)

Rachel (UK), Barry (UK) and Kirk (Scotland)

As you can see we have a lot of non-mainland Europeans :D which is pretty cool because I may get rid of my Australian accent and learn proper English again. No offense Australian friends :)

Anyway, I gotta go now - its already dinner time here in the future :)

By the way, Vodafone finally managed to get roaming to work so I should be reachable again!

Cheers,

Andi
